Volunteers Needed for Boyd Creek Clean Up

BURLINGTON, NC— The City of Burlington Water Resources Department invites individuals and service groups in the area to participate in a stream-side cleanup of Boyd Creek and its tributaries. The event will take place on April 16th from 8:00 am to 12:00 pm.

Volunteers will meet at 201 S. Main St. at Graham City Hall. Trash bags and safety vests will be distributed before volunteers head out along the creek's edge to remove garbage and debris.

The Boyd Creek Clean Up offers volunteers a chance to make a difference in the environment by removing debris and other items from the stream that effect water quality, riparian ecosystems, and recreation uses within Alamance County. Come out and join us by donating your time and effort to water quality during National Volunteer Week.

This cleanup is sponsored by Burlington's Water Resources Department, the City of Graham and the Kiwanis Club of Burlington.

For more information or to register as a volunteer, you can contact the Water Resources Department at cpatterson@ci.burlington.nc.us or call (336) 222-5140.
